DETAILED EVENT DESCRIPTIONS.

Albert Feldstein—“An Historical Postcard History: Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, “For Jesus’ Sake, Go To Mountain Lake.”

Historian Albert Feldstein will present a history of Mountain Lake Park, incorporating old postcards from the 1900s: hotels, residential streets, boarding houses, lakes, Chautauqua locations, railroad stations and more.

John Wilson as John Work Garrett—“The Life and Times of John Work Garrett: From College Dropout to B & O Railroad President.”

Local actor John Wilson will bring to life the historical B & O Railroad President John W. Garrett, highlighting the growth of his leadership in the B & O Railroad, Confederate attacks on his railroad during the Civil War, his friendship with President Lincoln, and the legacy of being the county’s namesake.

William B. Grant as President William Howard Taft—“A Presidential Visit to Mountain Chautauqua: President William Howard Taft and his Unique World View.”

Local resident William Grant will take us back to the summer of 1911 when President William H. Taft traveled by train to deliver a speech at the Mountain Lake Park Bashford Amphitheatre.

Sean and Debi Beachy—“Ushering in the 20th Century: A Historical Perspective of Sacred and Secular Music.”

Popular sacred and secular music was an important part of American culture at the turn of the 20th century. Sean and Debi will present a recital of pieces that were popular during this time period. A description of the music in a historical context will also be presented, including influence that American music was having in Europe at the time.

Dr. John Rathgeb—“Medicine and Surgery in the Chautauqua Era (1880-1930): Was anything learned from the Civil War?”

The Civil War is considered to be the beginning of the modern era of medicine and surgery in the United States. It was primitive by today’s standards, but it was a beginning. Civil War Medical historian, Dr. John Rathgeb, will discuss what happened in medicine and surgery during the Chautauqua Era-1874 to 1930.

Community Hymn Sing.

A Community Hymn Sing will be held and led by Sean & Debi Beachy featuring period hymns from the original Chautauqua Festivals held in Mountain Lake Park, MD.

Dr. Neal Corwell.

Professional brass soloist Dr. Neal Corwell will perform euphonium, trombone, ophicleide, and percussion, with Kathryn Sincell-Corwell accompanying on piano, during a recital reminiscent of those that would have been presented during the original Chautauqua events.

Keith Henley as Matthew Henson.

Matthew Henson, a polar explorer, craftsman, author and said to be the first African-American to reach the North Pole. Keith Henley, a historic interpreter and actor, will portray the Maryland native. Henley performs as Henry Box Brown, George Washington Carver, Langston Hughes, Sergeant Henry Johnson, and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. at the American Historical Theatre in Philadelphia and at Chautauquas in Colorado, Delaware, South Carolina, and Arkansas.

Dr. Gail Herman—“Coal Talk: Dialogs with People from Western Maryland Coal Communities.”

Dr. Gail Herman will use her storytelling skills to share regional stories based on the oral histories from “Coal Talk,” housed in the Garrett College Library since the 1990s. Drawing upon transcripts of interviews with Garrett County residents, she will recreate their personal stories connected to the local coal mining industry. Following her stories, Dr. Herman will guide a question and answer period in which she will involve other community members in a discussion and memories of “Coal Talks.” New stories are welcome!

Marilyn Warshawsky—“The Life and Wide-Ranging Influence of Dr. John F. Goucher and His Links to Mountain Lake Park.”

Author Marilyn Warshawsky will speak about the life and the wide-reaching influence of John Franklin Goucher, a leader in the development of the Mountain Lake Park Chautauqua and the Mountain Lake Park Association.

Fanny Crawford—“Family History: A Treasure of Memory and Imagination.”

Storyteller Fanny Crawford will deliver a Chautauqua-style portrayal of her great-grandfather T.H. Barnes and segue into a workshop session focusing on the ideas and strategies for sharing family stories, artifacts and historical & cross-cultural narratives.

Dr. Gail Herman—“Children’s Storytelling Workshop.”

At this workshop Dr. Herman will be conducting a storytelling event for and with children and their families. She will tell folktales and involve students in helping to create sound effects with instruments and will use hand puppets and audience ideas as well as voices. Later she would love to hear some stories from children and older students, both original or adapted folktales.
